TRINITY WINS OPENING GAME.

Downs Worcester Tech. by Score of 14 to 0.

Trinity opened its 1914 football season by defeating Worcester Tech. 14 to 0 at Trinity Field last Saturday, October 3. There was great interest in the game, not only because it opened the season, but because it afforded some idea of the kind of team which will represent Trinity this year, and of the prospects for the big games.

The game showed that there are the makings of an excellent team, which, with further developing, will inspire confidence for the later contests. Yet there was some disappointment felt at the showing made on Saturday. Last year Trinity beat Worcester Tech. 48 to 0. The team which represents Worcester Tech. this year did not seem to be a stronger one than last year's team, and moreover, it was playing without the services of one of its strongest men, Captain Stone at left end. Making allowance for the loss this year of the veteran stars who were in the line-up last year, it was felt before the game that Trinity would make a larger score. The team showed all through the game that this expectation was well founded, for Tech. was outplayed at every angle of the game, and several opportunities for scoring were missed by narrow margins. Trinity's team plainly indicated that the power is there to make it a fine combination, but the trouble was that it did not take advantage of opportunities and push its charges home. There was some ragged work in the handling of the ball and in the finer points of play. But it was evident that much of this was due to the fact that the game was the first of the season. Coach Price may be depended upon to eradicate these faults, and to mould the team into the state of efficiency which has characterized so many Trinity elevens.

The great majority of the weak points concerned the offense, the defense being noticeably strong. Tech. made only one first down during the entire game, and that on a forward pass. Trinity's goal was never even threatened. Castator was easily the star of the game. His line plunging was of a high order, and was hailed with joy, for there were some doubts over Trinity's strength in line breaking with Hudson no longer available. Castator's hard line bucking was the more creditable because heretofore he has always played in the line, and is new to the position of fullback. Smith was out of the game because of a temporary injury, and his services in the team's offense were greatly missed. After Castator, the work of Connors drew much favorable comment. He showed speed and gained frequently, showing up well on the defense also by his intercepting of forward passes. Cole also was fast in a broken field. Ives gives promise of becoming a truly brilliant quarterback, once he gets accustomed to the position. Morris, captain of

COLLEGE MEETING.

Senate Given Jurisdiction Over College Union. Cheers Practiced.

Friday, October 2nd, the second college meeting of the year was held in Alumni Hall. Shortly after seven o'clock the meeting was called to order by President Howell. He spoke for several minutes on the prospects of the Worcester Tech. game saying that there would be eleven good men on the field and that it was up to every individual in college to support those men to the utmost of his ability. He then introduced Dr. Price.

Dr. Price made a stirring speech on college spirit. He said that every man should do what he can for his college; that he would like to see men come out on the athletic field and say, "Use me as you can." Real work is needed and not outward show.

T. C. Brown, '15, secretary of the Senate, moved that the following amendment be added to Section VI, Article 3 of the bylaws of the College Senate: "The Senate shall have jurisdiction over the College Union."

The motion was passed. Thereupon the meeting was turned over to the cheer and song leaders. The new cheer leaders as well as two new cheers were tried out. The two cheers, the first "the child of Newell Sage's fertile brain," are:

Trin! Trin! Trin!
Rah! Rah! Rah! Rah! Rah! Rah! Rah!
Trin!
Hoorah! Hoorah! Hoorah!
Team! Team! Team!

and the second, a cheer for an individual, as:

Yea, Howell!
Yea, Howell!
Yea, Dawse Howell!

After these and some songs had been rehearsed the college body sang "Neath the Elms," and the meeting was adjourned.

the second team last year, played a splendid game at left end. His spilling of several of Tech.'s plays behind the line was of especial note. At the other end, Lambert was also strong, and both ends seem to be well taken care of. Captain Howell and Kinney played a steady game at tackle, and at the guards it appeared that Craig and Jackson will be reliable men. Craig, formerly a second string back, adapted himself to his new position in a manner which looks promising for the future. Jackson is a freshman, and looks like a find. At center Pollock played a commendable game for a man who is on the 'varsity for the first time, and he showed that his second team experience had been a help to him. Captain Howell played with a wrenched knee, forcing the punting upon Craig. Howell's injury slowed him up, and on one occasion caused him to lose a touchdown when

TENNIS TOURNAMENT.

Third Round Reached in Contests for College Championship.

A large number of men have entered in the Fall Tennis Tournament, which has now been in progress for several days. As the Tripod goes to press five men have reached the second round in the singles. They are P. Harding, '18, Niles, '16, Sage, '15, Robertson, '18, and Mitchell, '16.

In the doubles no matches have been played as yet. One team has reached the second round, Edsall and Shelley having won by default from Peck and Johnson.

A summary of the matches played so far follows:

In the singles the following drew byes: Hatch, '17, Harding, '18, Stewart, '18, Johnson, '18, Robertson, '18, Mitchell, '16, and Kates, '18.

In the first round Niles, '16, defeated Burnham, '18, 6-3, 4-6, 6-3; Squire, '15, defeated Crehore, '15, 6-1, 6-0; Maxon, '16, defaulted to W. Pollock, '18; Peck, '15, defeated Shelley, '15, 6-4, 6-1; O'Connor, '16, defeated Bloodgood, '18, 6-2, 6-3; Sage, '15, defeated Fenton, '17, 6-4, 3-6, 8-6; Pierce, '16, defeated MacCrum, '17, 6-3, 6-4; Schmitt, '16, defeated L'Heureux, '18, 6-1, 6-2; and Holden, '18, defeated Smythe, '18, 6-0, 6-2.

In the second round Harding, '18, defeated Hatch, '17, 6-2, 6-0; Niles, '16, defeated Stewart, '18, 6-1, 6-4; Sage, '15, defeated Pierce, '18, 6-2, 6-2; Robertson, '18 won from Johnson, '18, by default, while Mitchell, '16, took two six-love sets from Kates.

This brings Harding, '18, against Niles, '16, in the third round. Robertson will play Mitchell, '16, while Sage's opponent will be the winner of the yet unplayed match between Schmitt, '16 and Holden, '18.

In the doubles, Edsall and Shelley, who won from Peck and Johnson by default, will meet Niles and Schmitt, who drew a bye in the first round. Mitchell and O'Connor also drew a bye and they will play the winner of the match between Stewart and Burnham and Furnival and Young.

he had a clear field. Had his leg been in shape he would never have been caught.

Trinity scored in the second and fourth periods. Castator made the first touchdown on straight line plunging, and Lambert the second on a pretty forward pass.

Captain Howell won the toss and chose the north goal. Castator caught the kick-off and ran it back 10 yards. Ives tried the line for three yards. Craig punted. Lambert and Morris nailed the Tech. man in his tracks. On Tech's first play, Morris broke through and nailed the man for a loss of seven yards. On the next play the whole Trinity line

FRESHMEN WIN.

Annual Underclass Baseball Game Results in Victory for 1910.

The freshmen won the annual freshman-sophomore baseball game by a 4 to 2 score last Monday, October 5th. A good deal of interest centered about the contest, and a number of upper classmen attended it in addition to the entire freshman and sophomore classes. As the game did not start until late, but five innings were played. D. A. Gillooly, '16, captain of the 'varsity nine, umpired. The freshmen deserved their victory, for they played better all around baseball. They made three hits to two for the sophomores, and made but one error as compared to three by the second year team. Burnham pitched for the freshmen, and showed some promise. He had speed, and with the exception of one inning, fair control. His work was better than that of McKay, the 'varsity second baseman, who pitched for the sophomores. Poto, Holden and Wright got safeties for the freshmen, while Haines and Creamer got the sophomores' two singles. The fielding feature of the game was a one-hand catch in the first inning of a high throw from Berkeley. The play retired the runner. Mullen played a nice fielding game at second base for the freshmen, as did Poto at third, and Murray at short-stop, showed some of the form that made his brother famous on the 'varsity for the past three years.

The freshmen clinched the game in the third inning on two hits, two errors, and a wild pitch. Holden led off with a hit. Aslett forced him. Burnham was safe on an error. On Poto's single, Aslett scored. Burnham was caught at the plate on a fielder's choice. Murray got on through an error, and Poto scored. Murray stole, and got home on another error.

In the fourth the freshmen scored another run. Wright singled, and took second when McKay threw Mullen out. An error on Holden allowed Wright to score.

The sophomores scored their two runs in the latter half of the same inning. After McKay went out, Berkeley walked. Haines singled. Dennis was safe on a fielder's choice. A base on balls to Storrs and an error allowed Berkeley and Haines to score.

The freshmen made a lucky double play in the second inning which was much applauded.

The two teams batted as follows:

1918	1917
Poto, 3b	Creamer, 2b
Murray, ss	McKay, p
Phillips, c	Berkeley, c
Shultheiss, rf	Haines, 1b
Stewart, lf	Dennis, 3b
Wright, cf	Storrs, rf
Mullen, 2b	Sather, ss
Holden, 1b	Smith, lf
Aslett, lf	Clark, cf
Burnham, p

The score by innings:

1918.....	0	0	3	1	0—4
1917.....	0	0	0	2	0—2

Batteries, Burnham and Phillips, McKay and Berkeley; umpire, Gillooly.

"NOW THEN TRINITY"

Trinity's football season is under way. The team did well, very well indeed, in its opening game. It will, we are sure, do better next Saturday. The college body, however is not doing well. What's the answer? Buy an A. A. ticket, now!

Coach Price in his "from the shoulder" talk last Friday night gave this good, strong, epigrammatic definition of college spirit: "College spirit is getting out and digging." There is a chance right now for every Trinity man with the requisite amount of college spirit to turn out and do some much-needed "digging" for the new College Union. The committee in charge of selecting furniture for the room has already done splendid "digging", but the support it is receiving from the college body is "wish-washy" to the last degree of weakness. It is up to every undergraduate, first and foremost to "dig" down into his pocket for as much as he honestly is able to contribute to the project. But don't let the "digging" stop there! Unless each man gives something more than money, something of himself, to the project, the Union cannot become the tangible, visible manifestation of true Trinity spirit that it was designed to be.

SUNDAY CHAPEL.

Peace Sunday Observed. Dr. Luther Preaches.

Dr. Luther's sermon on Sunday was of special interest and significance, to all who heard it, because of existing conditions in Europe.

President Wilson set aside last Sunday as a nation-wide day of prayer for peace in Europe, and in compliance with this command, Dr. Luther delivered a masterful sermon in which he showed how futile and useless is this nameless war. Kindled by a trivial occurrence in Austria, fanned into flame by the selfish greed of one man, and by diplomatic disagreements, this great war has grown until all Europe is now ablaze with the roaring flames of combat, which sweep resistlessly onward, leaving in their path only the charred ashes of desolation, destruction and sorrow, and all this for what purpose? Other wars have taken place, said the President, but they have been inspired by some great and noble cause, and from their remains has sprung the spirit of liberty and of new and better conditions. But from this great turmoil what good can come? Surely no benefit can result from a war involving millions of men, fighting blindly for an unknown cause.

The day of wars is not over; this will in all probability not be the last great conflict; but it is for us, as coming citizens of the United States, a nation which stands for liberty and peace, to do our best to the end that when another war does come, that it may be inspired by honest motives, by a nation and not by an individual, and that it may be a war in which righteous principles and not unscrupulous cupidity are at heart.

Glee Club Trials.

At a meeting of the Glee Club, held at 81 Vernon Street Monday night, the plans for the coming year were discussed. With Spofford, Shelley, and the other members in last year's club, and some new material, the prospect for a successful season is a good one.

Tuesday afternoon, from one to three o'clock, Mr. Davis the new trainer, will try out the candidates including those who were in the Glee Club last year. Each man will have to sing a song of his own selection. A Trinity song or any other may be chosen.

was through, and the play was spilled for another seven yards loss. Tech. punted. Cole caught the ball and made a good run, but fumbled as he was tackled, Tech. recovering the ball. An end run and a straight buck each failed to gain an inch for Tech. Ives made a fair catch of Tech.'s punt. It was Trinity's ball on the Tech.'s 40-yard line. Castator hit the line for seven yards. On an end run, Connors just missed first down. Ives made the distance around end. Castator made five, but fumbled, Tech. recovering the ball. Weitzer tried a forward pass, Connors intercepted it. Tech. got the ball again when Ives fumbled. Tech. tried center for no gain, and then got three yards on another buck. A forward pass from a fake back formation was incompleting. Tech. kicked, and Cole ran the ball back 15 yards. The ball was well into Trinity territory and Craig punted. The ball went out of bounds at midfield. Ives caught Tech's punt and ran back 20 yards. The period ended with the ball in midfield in Trinity's possession.

Starting the second quarter, Castator gained 15 yards by line forcing. Cole around end put the ball within striking distance of Tech's goal line. Castator made 10, and then failed to gain. Ives made three and Connors five. Castator hit the line for the first touchdown of the year. Kinney kicked the goal. Cole ran Tech.'s kick-off back for 20 yards. A tackle through play was tried. Howell got through and away for 40 yards. His bad knee handicapped him, and he was nailed with a clear field ahead. Cole made seven, and Howell first down. Ives' forward pass was blocked. Castator made five. Cole carried the ball almost over the line, but lost the touchdown when he fumbled. Tech. kicked, and Ives ran it back five yards. Cole circled end, and another touchdown was in sight when the quarter ended.

To start the third quarter, Tech. made five yards by a run back of Kinney's kick-off. Tech.'s first play resulted in a loss. On the next, Castator recovered a fumble. The ball was but 25 yards from the Tech. goal line. Castator plays put the ball close to the line. There was no gain on the next play, and then the touchdown was lost when Cole fumbled. Trinity recovered the ball. Cole could not make distance, and Tech. took the ball on downs. A plunge at center failed. Here Tech. sprung a surprise by trying a forward pass near its own goal line. It was successful and netted Tech. its only first down of the game. Another forward pass failed, Cole recovering. Kinney made six. Trinity fumbled on a forward pass and lost 15 yards, Tech. recovering. Tech. could not gain through the line. A forward pass failed. Trinity was penalized five yards for offside play. Tech. twice failed to gain. Morris nailed the next play for a 15-yard loss. Tech. kicked, and Ives ran it back 15 yards. It was Trinity's ball on Tech.'s 40-yard line when the period ended.

Castator started the fourth quarter by making the first downs through the line. On a criss-cross, Cole added 20. Castator made eight in two attempts. Cole was nailed for a seven-yards loss. A forward pass failed, and it was Tech.'s ball on downs. Plunges by Castator

ALUMNI NOTES.

'95—The following article about
E. deK. Leffingwell, '95, is from a Los Angeles paper of recent date:

Dr. and Mrs. C. W. Leffingwell of San Rafael Heights yesterday received the first definite news of their sons, Ernest De Koven Leffingwell, the Arctic explorer, who a short time ago was reported to be on his way home.
It is a letter from Mrs. A. L. Anderson, wife of one of the members of the Stefansson expedition, and contains information that she had received in the east.

From the account she gives, Dr.
Leffingwell looks forward to the arrival of his son at their home near Pasadena in about two weeks. No direct word from him as to his return has yet been received.

Mrs. Anderson in her letter describes how the explorer left Flaxman Island, where he has made his headquarters for the last two years, and with one man in a dory, to which they affixed a mast and hoisted a small sail, made the perilous trip to Point Barrow, on the northernmost coast of Alaska, a distance of about 200 miles. Part of the course lay through an inside passage; otherwise the small boat could never have weathered some of the seas which were encountered.

Leffingwell, who has made several previous trips into the Arctic regions, returned to Flaxman Island a year ago last spring to complete a geological and geographical survey of 400 miles along the north coast of Alaska on which he has already worked two years.

It was his intention at the time to return home the following fall, but he was unable then to obtain a clear passage and had to pass another winter and summer there. In all of this time he was only able to send three letters to his parents and they were several months on the way.

Fort Leavenworth to enter the Army

coming year.
